

ROLLING OAKS SPORTS BAR & GRILL

Contributed by Texas Music Times

Not content to rest on the success of his "Texas Music Times Outlaws Under the Stars" Texas Music series, co-sponsored by Texas Music Times, Philip Delgado of the Rolling Oaks Sports Bar & Grill has been busy preparing to bring more Texas Music artists to San Antonio. A new series of shows begins Saturday, August 5th, with Austin-based singer songwriter Brandon Rhyder. Rhyder's third album, Conviction, is one of the hottest independent Texas recordings of the year, selling over 7,000 copies already.

Presented on the Rolling Oaks outdoor deck, complete with a covered stage and misting fans, the Thursday night "Texas Music Times Outlaws Under the Stars" music series has quickly become a success, averaging over 200 Texas Music fans per show and bringing in over 250 pounds of food a month for the San Antonio Food Bank. With bands like Micky & The Motorcars, Carter Falco, Ryan Turner, Darren Kozelsky and more lined up for future Thursday performances, it appears inevitable that Thursdays at Rolling Oaks will continue to be a hit with San Antonio audiences.

But now Texas Country Music fans will have Saturdays at Rolling Oaks, too. "The customer has always been the focus at Rolling Oaks and we are constantly trying to stay ahead of them in terms of what they want," said Delgado. "The idea is to stick our neck out there by booking the best bands available on any given date." This means that in the upcoming months, Texas Music fans will see Honeybrowne, Full Throttle, Bleu Edmondson, Doug Moreland, and more, in full band format, on Saturday nights at Rolling Oaks. Delgado adds, "We have some pretty big offers out there so we hope to add some huge names to that Saturday list."

The Thursday night "Texas Music Times Outlaws Under the Stars" music series will run through October and resume in April. Friday's Blues and Guitars concerts and Saturday's Texas Music concerts will run through the winter with Rolling Oaks bringing the artists and their fans inside to the more intimate, up-close and personal, temperature controlled, indoor stage setting.

Rolling Oaks Sports Bar & Grill is located on N. Loop 1604, 5 miles east of Highway 281, just past Judson Rd. on the Rolling Oaks Golf Center property. For more information go to www.RollingOaksSA.com or call 210-655-4745.
